Bortemat: price

Since the production of generics requires much lower financial costs from the manufacturers than the manufacture of original drugs, the price of Bortemat is quite acceptable for most patients. At the same time, generics have the same therapeutic effect and are available for intensive and effective treatment of cancer patients.

Reviews about the drug Bortemat

Doctors and patients respond positively to Bortonat, noting the persistent clinical effect that occurs already during the course of treatment. Most patients report that their health improves significantly. This is because cancer cells slow down their growth and are partially killed by the drug.

Bortonat solution for intravenous injection contains Bortezomib. It is an active ingredient that has a selective effect on cancer cells without affecting healthy tissues. This is what determines the fact that patients relatively easily tolerate regular administration of the drug and note a minimum of side effects. The use of the medicine is permissible only as prescribed by the doctor, and the examination before the course of treatment must be completed without fail.

Description of the drug Bortonat

The drug is administered intravenously with the duration of the course of therapy for about two weeks. The exact period of treatment is determined by the doctor. Most often, "Bortonat" is injected into a vein twice a week, and the duration of the course is two weeks.
