The price of the drug Pomalid 4 (romalidomide 4 mg)

Pomalid 4 is an analogue of the already proven drug Imvovid, manufactured in the USA. Pomalid 4, like the original, has been approved by the US Food and Drug Administration and the WHO to ensure high quality and efficacy. The only difference between Pomalid 4 and the original is the price, which is ten times less than the cost of the original product, which ensures its availability for patients with any income. The pharmacy supplies Pomalid 4 directly from India, which creates a slight price advantage as the consumer does not have to overpay for additional services.

Pomalid 4 reviews

Pomalidomide, which is part of the drug, belongs to the third generation of immunomodulators that affect myeloma growths. The effectiveness of treatment with Pomalid is achieved by inhibition of stromal cells, which ensure the growth of cancer cells in the patient's blood. According to the reviews of doctors and patients using Pomalid 4, the drug helps improve well-being from the first days of admission, and at the end of the course, achieve remission or improve the patient's quality of life.
